

Forward, into the past!

Peter Mazurkiewicz

July 19, 2017

“There are three kinds of lies; outright lies, damnable lies, and statistics,” Mark Twain said.

Statistics, at times, may prove to be notoriously skewed, especially if they originate with researchers from the Cato Institute, Heritage Foundation or other Koch Industries funded “scientists.” Statistics are also notoriously boring; biology is much more fun.

Normal plant respiration, CO₂-O₂-H₂O, is not carbon sequestration. Neither do plants “filter” particulate matter, they die. Look at plant growth (death, actually) in heavily industrialized areas of China. See how that works?

Carbon sequestration occurs by “leaving it in the ground” — oil, coal, gas — even burning wood releases CO₂ and particulate matter.

The development of alternative energy sources grow in leaps and bounds worldwide, with Germany producing nearly 100 percent of electricity needs by solar, wind and hydro-power sources.

The U.S. oil, coal and gas industries fund the largest lobbying (bribery) factions in D.C., which insist we continue to kill Gaia, the personification of Earth in Greek mythology, by using 19th and 20th century energy sources in the 21st century.