

FITSNEWS.com

Ron Paul To Deliver Two Major Speeches

November 15, 2011

Cato Institute monetary conference, House healthcare caucus on the agenda this week

LAKE JACKSON, Texas – The campaign of 2012 Republican Presidential candidate Ron Paul announced today that Dr. Paul will give two major policy speeches this Wednesday, November 16th in Washington, D.C.

The first speech will take place at the Cato Institute's Monetary Conference, where the topic will be U.S. monetary policy and the Federal Reserve. The second speech will take place on Capitol Hill before the Congressional Health Care Caucus, where Dr. Paul will discuss his perspective on health care and his ideas on how to fix our current problems.

Both events are open to the press. See below for schedule details.

Wednesday November 16, 2011

9:00 a.m. Eastern

29th Annual Cato Monetary Conference

National Association of Home Builders

1201 15th Street, NW, Washington DC

12:30 p.m. Eastern

Health Caucus Thought Leaders Series

Congressional Health Care Caucus

2237 Rayburn House Office Building

###

(Editor's Note: The above communication is a news release from a presidential campaign. It does not necessarily reflect the editorial position of FITSNews.com. To submit your letter, news release, email blast, media advisory or issues statement for publication, click here).