

Attend Our Emergency Session at FreedomFest

By Matt Kibbe on June 03, 2012

If we do nothing, as runaway spending, record deficits, and crushing debt continue to plague our nation, America is undoubtedly headed over a fiscal cliff.

These are desperate times, and that is why Steve Forbes and I, FreedomWorks and all the other major freedom organizations are joining together in a special emergency session at this year's big FreedomFest, "the world's largest gathering of free minds," entitled "Crisis in America: A Call to Action."

"FreedomFest is so important to our country's survival that I attend all 3 days." — Steve Forbes

A record crowd of over 2,000 concerned citizens will gather at Bally's Events Center in Las Vegas July 11-14, and this event is on its way to selling out.

To encourage you to attend this critical meeting, we are offering each FreedomWorks supporter who attends a FREE American eagle 1-ounce silver dollar. These silver dollars not only symbolize what America stands for (sound money and liberty), but also consider it your first step in protecting yourself from that fiscal cliff.

The best and the brightest will be attending the emergency session: Steve Forbes, Judge Andrew P. Napolitano (Fox News), Senator Rand Paul, John Mackey (CEO, Whole Foods Market), Steve Moore (Wall Street Journal), David Boaz and Richard Rahn (Cato Institute), and Grover Norquist, (President of Americans for Tax Reform).

Leaders of all the major freedom organizations, free-market think tanks, and media will be there: Cato, Reason, Heritage, Fox News, Heartland, FEE, Newsmax, Atlas, Mises, Hillsdale, Liberty Fund, Students for Liberty, Human Events, and of course FreedomWorks. We have reached the tipping point, where the burdens of being over-regulated, over-taxed, and over-indebted will kill the golden goose. Heritage's Index of Economic Freedom shows the United States steadily declining—and now it may go into free fall, unless we act.

Good news! We will be holding several special meetings for all FreedomWorks supporters starting on Thursday, July 12.

First, at the special emergency meeting on Thursday afternoon, I will be introducing Judge Andrew P. Napolitano, who will speak on "A Government of Waste and Lawlessness." You are also invited to join Judge Napolitano, Steve Forbes, and I at a private luncheon. More details, when you sign up.

Second, I will be leading a workshop on my new book "Hostile Takeover: Resisting Centralized Government's Stranglehold on America."

Third, we will be holding a special evening event on Thursday evening at Bally's Events Center in Las Vegas on "How to Regain Control of the United States Senate." Speakers include Senator Rand Paul (R-Kentucky) and Senator Mike Lee (R-Utah), as well as Steve Forbes and myself. You will not want to miss this opportunity to meet and discuss our plans to regain the United States Senate, a critical goal in turning our nation around.
