Can Tim Pawlenty Win the GOP Presidential Nomination?

On CBN's The Brody File Show this week, we speak exclusively with Mary and Tim Pawlenty as we begin a series of 30 minute shows called, "The Elephant in the Room" where we profile each likely GOP presidential contender Chris Cillizza from The Washington Post and Politico's Jonathan Martin are on the show to offer analysis and former Minnesota Congressman Vin Weber comes on the show to "make the case" as to why Pawlenty would be a great choice to take on President Obama in 2012.

The whole show is here but we have three show clips below.

Below watch the open to the show and then an interview with Mary and Tim Pawlenty. Transcriptions below.

IN ARTICLES, COURTESY: "On CBN's The Brody File Show"

On his conversation with his daughter about whether he'll run for president:

Tim Pawlenty: "She says, 'Dad are you gonna run for President?' And I said 'I don't know honey I'm not sure.' And she paused for a second and then said, 'Well just don't embarrass the family.'"

On how he will decide if he'll run for president:

Tim Pawlenty: "Is what we have to offer, my experiences, my results, my record what the country needs? And am I the right person to offer that? Does the country need that and if the answer to that is yes then we're going to work hard to try and improve it."

On Obamacare:

Tim Pawlenty: "I think it's one of the worst pieces of legislation in the modern history of the country. It was a bait and switch tactic. They said they're going to make healthcare more affordable. In
