

The LockerRoom

Newt, the courts, the Constitution

Posted on December 15, 2011 at 12:27 pm, by George Leef

Roger Pilon of the Cato Institute tears into Newt Gingrich's views on the role of the courts in defending the constitutional rights of the people here. Pilon presents more evidence that Gingrich is one of those big government conservatives who isn't really opposed to government coercion, but just want to use it in ways he approves of.