

Overlawyered

Chronicling the high cost of our legal system

May 9 roundup

by Walter Olson on May 9, 2011

- New DoL classification mandate could tee up wage/hour class actions [Peter Kirsanow, NRO Corner] “Survey of wage and hour settlement highlights risk to employers” [Hyman]
- Why 24/7/365 campaigns? Because politics “has taken over so much of life” [Roger Pilon, Cato at Liberty]
- Nigerian auto tariffs have ripple effects for the worse in Prince George’s County, Md. [Tyler Cowen]
- Virginia AG Ken Cuccinelli’s dubious case against climatologist [Barton Hinkle, Richmond Times-Dispatch]
- Employers and jobs moving from California to... Michigan? [Perry]
- “Huffington Post Law Suit: Should You Work For Free?” [Suzanne Lucas, BNET, earlier here, here, etc.]
- With apparent aim of protecting music rights holders, lawmakers heap burdens on sellers of used CDs [four years ago]