- MSNBC at least gives the opposing viewpoint a few sentences this time in another piece putting forward the false proposition that recent Supreme Court jurisprudence on arbitration and class actions hurts consumers. Note that it's not true that consumers fare poorly in arbitration. [MSNBC; earlier]
- Why is Tennessee Governor Haslam supporting a trial-lawyer plan to stack the state supreme court? As my experience in Missouri demonstrates, creating that kind of hellhole judiciary can effectively undo civil justice reform. [Severino]
