

Cato Institute's report on taxes and budget

FEBRUARY 11, 2011 BY CAROL GREENBERG LEAVE A COMMENT

President Obama's budget proposal for fiscal year 2012 will be unveiled by the White House on Monday.

Links you can use from the Cato Institute:

- Federal Aid-to-state programs, the top 1,100.
- Approaches to cutting federal spending.
- Budgetary savings from military restraint.
- Challenges to US economic recovery: federal and state spending.
- Guide to down-sizing the government.

Christopher Preble, Director of Foreign Affairs Studies at Cato tells us how we can cut military spending effectively and without compromising our security and the security of our armed forces: