

RealClearWorld Morning Edition

Europe Is Really on the Brink - Niall Ferguson & Nouriel Roubini, Der Spiegel

A New Form of European Union Needed - Martin Wolf, Financial Times

Two Worlds Are Cracking Up - Thomas Friedman, New York Times

Wilsonian Wars, Wilsonian Ruin - Walter Russell Mead, American Interest

Spoiled West Invites Its Own Decline - Peter Hartcher, Sydney Morning H'ld

Greece's Looming Humanitarian Disaster - Nicos Devletoglou, Forbes

The Blunt Edge of China's Peaceful Rise - Carlyle Thayer, Yale Global

China's Demographic Crunch - Michael Richardson, Japan Times

Sub-Saharan Africa Takes Off - G. Pascal Zachary, Foreign Policy

Stay Out of the Syrian Morass - Daniel Pipes, National Review

Toward a New Arab Cultural Revolution - Alastair Crooke, Asia Times

Mexico Drug Violence Marches North - Ted Galen Carpenter, Nat'l Interest

Canada 'Back' on the World Stage? Hardly - Jeffrey Simpson, Globe & Mail

Chamberlain Case Exposes Aussie Justice - Jack Waterford, Canberra Times

A Frosty Return for Kashmir's Ex-Jihadists - Praveen Swami, The Hindu