JULIAN SANCHEZ: CONGRESS IS OUT TO SPY ON YOUR COMPUTER. “If Congress had to name laws honestly, it would be called the ‘Forcing Your Internet Provider to Spy On You Just In Case You’re a Criminal Act of 2011’ — a costly, invasive mandate that even the co-author of the Patriot Act, Rep. James Sensenbrenner (R-Wisc.), says ‘runs roughshod over the rights of people who use the Internet.’”
