On March 13, the Washington Legal Foundation will host a media briefing on the health care cases. The briefing will feature Ilya Somin of the George Mason University School of Law and Mayer Brown's Andrew J. Pincus, who filed an amicus brief on behalf of constitutional law scholars in *U.S. Department of Health and Human Services v. Florida*. Tom Goldstein, the publisher of SCOTUSblog, will moderate the event, and a webcast will be available for those not able to attend in person. For more information, visit the Washington Legal Foundation's website.

On March 16, the Cato Institute will host a book forum on Flagrant Conduct: The Story of Lawrence v. Texas. The event will feature the book's author, Dale Carpenter of the University of Minnesota Law School, with comments by Charles Lane of the Washington Post. David Boaz of the Cato Institute will serve as the moderator. The event is free, but registration is required. For more information, visit Cato's website.
