..I Think, Therefore I Read Libertarianism.Org

Libertarianism.org is a new project from the Cato Institute headed-up by Aaron Powell and Evan Banks with the stated purpose to be "a resource on the theory and history of liberty, broadly construed." The site has tabs for history, people, media, publications, and blog. A solid resources overall but hopefully as the site develops, the complete liberty message will replace idea that some government intervention is ok, as is presently the case on some content.
