VOICE OF ESSENTIAL LIBERTY

Date: March 20, 2014

Cato Institute's Michael Tanner: “[J]ust half of the previously uninsured have actually paid their first month's premium, meaning that we could have as few as 500,000 newly insured. On the other hand, even the White House admits, at last count, that at least half a million Americans lost their insurance because of Obamacare and were not able to find an affordable replacement. Now there's a slogan for Democrats to run on: 'We're spending $41 billion of your money this year and we've insured as many people as we've uninsured.'”
