Daniel J. Mitchell

Who are the worst people in America? For sheer evil, I'm sure murderers, rapists, and child molesters belong at the top of the list. But if we're talking about overall damage to society, it's hard to imagine that any group is as counterproductive as politicians.

Whether they're causing financial crises, undermining American competitiveness, crippling upward mobility for the poor, or giving away our money in corrupt vote-buying schemes, it seems that politicians have a reverse Midas touch.

That's why I enjoy sharing the jokes from the late-night comics. It's important to mock these pretentious windbags. So enjoy the latest batch.
