

ADC Blog

News from the American Dream Coalition

Myth of the Compact City

Randal O'Toole - known as the Antiplanner - is also a senior fellow at the Cato Institute. And he is out with another excellent policy analysis. This one tackles the five recent pro-Smart Growth studies that have come out in the past year or so that conclude Americans need to move away from suburban-type development and toward compact development.

His study - The Myth of the Compact City: Why Compact Development Is Not the Way to Reduce Carbon Dioxide Emissions - tackles the unproven assumption by Smart Growthers that crowded living is better for the environment. This is must-read material!

Date: November 19th, 2009 @ 08:24

Author: Ed Braddy

Categories: Freedom, Land Use, Planning, Smart Growth

Tags:

Leave a Comment

ADC News is a service of the American Dream Coalition.
