

Best liberty and freedom websites

February 19, 6:18 PM • Maricopa County Libertarian Examiner • Darell Tapp

1 comment  Print  Email  RSS  Subscribe

Previous

President Obama appearing Live from Nevada (Photo AP/Martinez Monsivais)

Related Article

- Obama in Nevada

The web site that is the best represents freedom and liberty is the Libertarian Party's website.

This Great Recession has many Americans questioning their political allegiance, check out the quiz there.

People interested in learning more can view the official Arizona Libertarian Party website or checkout the local Libertarian chapter where the officers feature articles on line.

The Goldwater Institute has a running clock on how fast the Arizona government is spending money. It has plenty of articles with great insight on local and national issues.

Arizona's debt pales compared to the National Debt Clock. This is a must see for every American to know where their tax dollars are going.

Something even more important than this debt is how it corresponds to the GDP on the US Government Spending; for it will help you understand how this administration has surpassed all others, even FDR who had WWII and the Great Depression to contend with.

Defeat the Debt takes a common sense approach to defeating the deficit. Recovery.com is a government website dedicated to tracking spending-good luck. To truly comprehend just how much a trillion dollars is; one can understand why the spending has to stop.

Liberty, and Justice for all; Main Justice has up to the minute stories on corruption and a little insight to the Justice Department.

A true voice of Liberty can be heard through Ron Paul in his Campaign for Liberty website. Senator/Dr. Paul knows more about healthcare than anyone in Congress. The Cato Institute speaks volumes of liberty and freedom. There are hundreds of others but these are some of the best, they are also listed on the right hand column.

Tea Party. The movie has been out since last year, this month it's celebrating the first anniversary. Below is a trailer of what to expect.

Uncle Sam's diet

More About: The Best

ShareThis

 Report This