

The Mythology of Health Care. Correspondent Dan Mitchell of the Cato Institute sent across a new video yesterday on some of the myths currently surrounding the topic of healthcare reform. While the points he makes will not surprise most of you, it's a useful refresher on the difference between political spin and the more likely outcome should the healthcare legislation pass in its current form. Here's the video...