

SEARCH BLOG

FLAG BLOG

SHARE

Next Blog»

Create Blog | Sign In

Netizen News Brief

A sampling of news & views available from the New Media likely to be ignored by the Old.

Submit a Brief

Brief Charter

Provide a sampling of the diversity - of - opinion available from the web, with selection criteria biased toward items felt least likely to appear on TV newscasts.

Email recipients

Click HERE for full [poll results, newsfeed filters, video feeds] website functionality •

Website viewers

Get pushed: our 1-page-a-day format is designed to be delivered to your inbox weekday mornings...

Subscribe For Free

Push a friend: enter their email address in the subject field and they'll receive an anonymous sample copy.

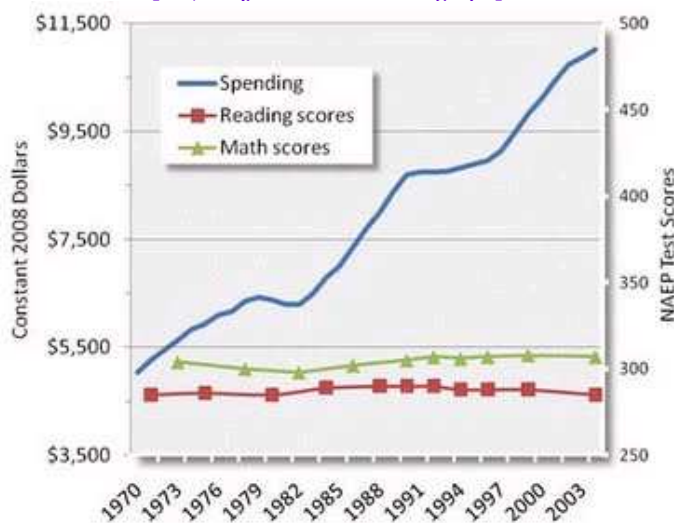

Perfect Privacy

This modest effort has no aspirations of revenue - no email addresses will ever leave my Mac.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 2009

Assessment of Educational Progress

Source: Andrew J. Coulson at Cato@Liberty , compiled from National Center for Education Statistics (NCES) data. (The vertical scale on left is inflation-adjusted dollars per student in public elementary and secondary schools.)

Sources: NCES, Digest of Education Statistics: 2007, Table 171; National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP), Long Term Trends.

Distribution of sources of revenue for public elementary and secondary schools in 1929-30: 0.4% federal, 16.9% state, 82.7% local.

Distribution of sources of revenue for public elementary and secondary schools in 2005-06: 9.1% federal, 46.5% state, 44.4% local.

[How many more generations are we going to sacrifice before we return the job of educations to parents where it belongs through vouchers?]

READ MORE