

BOORTZ

"When plunder becomes a way of life for a group of men living together in society, they create for themselves in the course of time a legal system that authorizes it and a moral code that justifies it."

Frederic Bastiat

Here's a must-read from The Economist: Leviathan Inc. "Politicians are reviving the notion that intervening in individual industries and companies can drive growth and create jobs."

Here's another must-read from Jim Powell of the Cato Institute: What Would it Take to Cut Government Spending?

OK .. one more must-read. I should post this every day until you finally give in and read it. This one from Peggy Noonan: America Is at Risk of Boiling Over.

Here's how government worker pensions are too rich for New York's - and America's - blood.

The latest from Victor Davis Hanson: Obama could still restore his standing with the American people if he copied the Clinton of 1995 and abandoned his unpopular agenda. But he won't.

The economy is moving in the wrong direction. Gee, what was Larry Kudlow's first clue?

As they brace for difficult fall elections, dispirited Democrats hoping to get back some of that 2008 magic are turning to the president for inspiration ... President Bush, that is.

Here's a stat for you: Every year, 60,000 babies are born to illegal mothers and gain US citizenship. And that is just in Texas.

Contrary to the Democrats' delusional attempts at self-justification, American opposition to ObamaCare is based on a very clear understanding of the law and its implications.

Tea Party activists are gearing up to protest Pelosi's special vote this week on a $26 billion state aid package that some label a "bailout for the government unions."

Charles Krauthammer asks an important question, especially in regard to immigration reform: Who makes the laws, anyway?

Obama's economic team is apparently exhausted.

Are Democrats planning to move some big-ticket agenda items through the Congress during the lame duck session? I wouldn't put it passed them. They are desperate.

The end of responsibility: From homeowners to government, the buck stops nowhere.

This is why it is called the ObamaMedia .. because it is filled with ObamaZombies who worked tirelessly to get this man elected.

Prior to 1913, there was no federal income tax. The states had rights and representation in Washington DC, there was no Federal Reserve Bank, and the federal government lived under the enumerated powers afforded within the US Constitution. What a difference one year can make...

A new government plan in the UK calls for every new home to be powered by a green energy plant to offset its environmental impact by 2016.

Are we on our way to becoming Argentina? Here's how the Obama administration may make that possible ...

Debunking big government solutions for the economy: The Broken Window Fallacy.
