2010 International Students For Liberty Conference

We are pleased to invite all students and non-students interested in liberty to attend the 3rd Annual International Students For Liberty Conference! This the 2010 conference will be hosted by the American University Students for Liberty. It will be held from Friday, February 12th to Sunday, February 14th.

The International SFL Conference is the premiere event of the year for students dedicated to liberty and advancing freedom on campus. The largest crowd of pro-liberty students will gather for a weekend of learning about liberty from contemporary leaders in liberty, discussing best practices for promoting liberty on campus, and getting more involved in the larger movement for liberty.

The inaugural Students For Liberty Conference in 2008 drew 100 students from 42 schools in 3 countries. The 2009 International SFL Conference brought 153 students from 86 schools in 13 countries together. This year, we expect the 2010 International SFL Conference to unite many more students from even more diverse countries. Check out the webpages of the 2008 and 2009 International Conferences to see past speakers, workshops, and events.

Keynote Speaker Ed Crane, Founder & President of the Cato Institute

We are honored to have Ed Crane, the Founder & President of the Cato Institute deliver a Keynote Address to the International SFL Conference from the Cato Institute! As his bio below reflects, Mr. Crane has been an inspirational leader in the cause of liberty. This is a once in a lifetime opportunity to hear Mr. Crane specifically address students. After his Address, conference attendees will be able to meet other Cato staff and scholars at a Cato on Campus reception hosted on the first floor of the Cato Institute. (The conference will help transport students from AU to the Cato Institute.)
